

Give the Gift of Nature this Holiday Season!

November 21, 2016 [Halifax] - Share your passion for nature with your friends, family and colleagues by giving the gift of coastal headlands, forest, or freshwater! Or help to save critical habitat for imperiled wildlife by adopting a bird, frog or turtle for the people on your holiday list.

New this year, purchase a Friends of the Wild membership, which will help ensure the protection of the 100 Wild Islands, forever!

Choose your Gift of Nature, and your holiday shopping is done! A Gift of Nature is a meaningful way to share your passion for conservation with people you care about. It is a gift that truly gives back. Protecting our special Nova Scotian places today will ensure a legacy of nature, forever, for our friends and families, and for all the species that share our environment.

Giving a Gift of Nature is also easy. Simply make a tax deductible donation, and we will send your friend, colleague or loved one a beautiful personalized certificate, note cards matching the theme of the gift and a personalized letter explaining the conservation work that the gift is making possible. You will receive a tax receipt and the knowledge that you have given a gift that will truly last forever.

We also have a selection of other gift ideas in our Nature shop. Please see the Catalogue for details for details.

Visit our website for more information and to download the order form, or drop by the Nature Trust office at 2085 Maitland St. in Halifax.
