

Nova Scotia Nature Trust

Volunteer Job Description

Major Gift Team Members

The Nature Trust's land conservation efforts are highly dependent on the support of generous individuals from our community. We are always in need of keen volunteers who are passionate about land conservation to help us reach out to other individuals who love Nova Scotia's unique natural legacy as much as we do.

Role Description:

The volunteer will:

- Work closely with other Fund Development Committee members to identify, cultivate and solicit potential donors capable of making gifts of $2500+
- Help cultivate, solicit and steward new donors who have given gifts of $1000+
- Meet with current members and donors to help identify prospective major donor capacity
- Help the Nature Trust build long-term relationships with donors and prospects

Qualifications/Skills Required

- Excellent oral and written communication skills
- Willingness to make cold calls/meetings
- Good understanding of fundraising
- Good presentation skills
- Ability to take initiative
- Demonstrated creativity an asset

Time Commitment

The volunteer should be willing to spend 4-8 hours per month, in addition to attendance at committee meetings.
